

YOUNG LIVES MATTER INTERGENERATIONAL MENTAL HEALTH CONFERENCE

WHEN
March 30th, 2019

WHERE
Birmingham City University,
Curzon Building, Birmingham

<https://www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/young-lives-matter-intergenerational-health-and-well-being-conference-tickets-55758623544>

LOTTERY FUNDED

FREE EVENT

This is a ticket only event, pre-registration by the Eventbrite link will secure your ticket.

KEY NOTE SPEAKERS

Clare Dickens
Suicide and self-harm prevention, Three Minutes to Save a Life.

Prof. Joanna Bennett
Identity and self-actualisation.

WHY ATTEND

People from minority communities are often diagnosed with severe mental health problems up to eight times more compared with the wider population.

Moreover, these communities experience more restrictive measures within the health system, including being subjected to forensic services and locked wards.

PARTNERS

The Association of Jamaican Nationals (AJN).

Birmingham City University.

Birmingham and Solihull Mental Health Foundation Trust.